

West Virginia Geological and Economic Survey

Colloquium Series

Presenting

Dorothy Vesper, Ph.D.

WVU Dept. of Geology and Geography

Date: Monday Feb 25th 2008

Time: Noon

Place: Large Conference Room

Refreshments: cookies, perhaps

Photo courtesy ARS-USDA. An elaborate spring house at Morgan's Spring, West Virginia

The Water Flows Forth - The Mystery and Geology of Spring Water

Abstract:

We are drawn to springs for many reasons: therapeutic, spiritual, aesthetic, thirst. Springs also provide a window for studying groundwater, surface water - ground water interactions, and human impact on the environment. This talk will focus on the origin and types of springs from a geologic perspective, historic and cultural aspects of springs, and our current spring research projects at WVU.